

Running a “What-If?” Audit

A “What-If?” audit allows you to see how coursework would apply to some other major than the one the student currently has declared.

1. To run a “What-If?” audit, click the “What-If?” button.

Note: To run a what-if audit, you must know what college offers the major, what degree it leads to, and what the name of the major is. To obtain this information, visit the “Majors and Minors” website.

The screenshot shows a web interface with two main sections. The first section, titled "Ref Analysis", contains the text "Use Reference Articulation." and a button labeled "Ref Art?". Below this is a "Select Degree Program:" label followed by a dropdown menu currently showing "Latest (all)". Underneath the dropdown is another dropdown menu labeled "List All Requirements" and a "Run Audit" button. The second section, titled "What-If Analysis", contains the text "Find out how your courses would apply if you changed majors." and a button labeled "What-If?". A red arrow points to the "What-If?" button. At the bottom of the interface is a dark grey bar with the text "Release: 7.3".

2. Select the appropriate information from the drop-down menus:

- The college or school offering this major.
- The degree this major culminates in.
- The major.
- The appropriate catalog year and term. Keep in mind that requirements may vary, depending on the year/term selected.
- A minor, if you want to include it in the degree audit.

3. Now click “Run Analysis.”

4. Now select either "View Submitted Audits" or, if you are running several audits, "Submit Another DARS Report."

Note: Occasionally, an error message will appear, advising you that you should contact the Webmaster for more information. These messages usually indicate that you have selected an inappropriate combination of majors and minors, and your best recourse is to run the audit without the minor. If you do need assistance, however, please contact your advisor or college degree certification officer for assistance.

Your audit has been submitted.
Please allow up to 5 minutes for the audit to finish.
