Objectives of the Course

This course is:

☐ Writing – Active
☒ Writing – Intensive
☐ Writing – Centered

This course is:

☐ Technology-aware: This course uses the Internet and other technologies to augment a regularly scheduled face-to-face course section by providing basic catalog, scheduling, syllabus, and other routine information via the Internet. No two-way technology-based interaction between faculty and students is facilitated.

☒ Technology-enhanced: This course adds opportunities for interaction between faculty member and the students or among students; course related information, including handouts and assignments, may be published dynamically during the course and students may submit and have assignments returned electronically. The primary and predominant mode of instruction is face-to-face.

☐ Technology-delivered: This course is designed and scheduled to use technology as the exclusive or predominant mode of instruction and faculty-student interaction.

☐ ITV: This course uses interactive television; it uses synchronous point-to-point interactive video as the exclusive or predominant mode of instruction.
Relationship of the Course to Unit Theme and Conceptual Framework

Conceptual Framework Unit Theme: Educator As Creator of Effective Educational Environments.

SPE 4901 requires teachers to use research-based instructional strategies with public school students with exceptional learning needs across severity levels. To create and effective educational environment, teachers must proficiently demonstrate the instructional process inclusive of assessment, IEP planning and implementation, lesson planning and implementation, material development and adaptation, as well as instructional program and self evaluation.

The Five Domains: Subjects, Strategies, Students, Societies and Communities, and Technology:

Diverse Subjects: SPE 4901 calls for teachers to demonstrate knowledge of academic, social/behavioral, and life skill curricular content as it pertains to the public school students with whom they work.

Diverse Strategies: SPE 4901 calls for teachers to use instructional strategies specific to academic, social/behavioral, and life skill curricular areas as it pertains to the public school students with whom they work.

Diverse Students: SPE 4901 calls for teachers to make selection of curricular content, materials, and methods based on diverse learning needs versus a special education label.

Diverse Societies and Communities: SPE 4901 calls for teachers to examine how school and cultural differences may be an influential variable in the delivery of an individualized education program.

Diverse Technologies: SPE 4901 offers opportunities for students to use educational software with students with exceptional learning needs within the public school setting.

The Learning Model for this course is:

Ecological Theory

Methods used in teaching this course which reflect this learning model:

Ecological theory advocates that individuals are products of their environment. Consequently, for an individual who is experiencing learning/behavioral problems, the problem does not lie within the individual but within the environment itself. SPE 4901 is a practica course, which allows for teachers to see first hand how their choices in content, methods, and materials impact the performance of their public school students. It also allows for the teachers to see how their instruction contributes to the performance of students within other learning environments.

Methods of assessment of student performance relative to the theme and/or the domains):

Curriculum-Based Assessment – Diverse Students, Diverse Strategies, and Diverse Subjects

Classroom Management Plan – Diverse Students and Diverse Strategies

IEP – Diverse Students, Diverse Subjects, Diverse Strategies, and Diverse Societies and Communities. Candidate performance on the IEP is evaluated via Live Text using the unit “Impact on P-12” rubric.

Lesson Plans - Diverse Students, Diverse Subjects, Diverse Strategies, and Diverse Societies and Communities

Material Development/Adaptation - Diverse Students, Diverse Subjects, and Diverse Strategies

Teaching Evaluation - Diverse Students, Diverse Subjects, Diverse Strategies, Diverse Societies and Communities and Diverse Technologies
