

Harold Leffler June 2, 1942 is home from the hospital, where he was treated for eight days. He expects to return to Scott field, Belleville, next Monday and resume his schooling there. He believes that his illness resulted from a bruised liver received in a minor accident in St. Louis, where a car crashed into the rear of his auto when he halted at a stop sign.