

Russell Harrison of Newton left Friday morning for Chicago, where he was to report at the United States Army induction center, Saturday morning. He expected to be sent to Camp Sutton, North Carolina, for preliminary training before being sent overseas. His regiment is composed of skilled mechanics in many lines and will do maintenance duty with combat units at the front.

May 5, 1942