

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Parker of Newton vicinity have received word that their twin grand-sons, Privates Henry Dale and James Gale Stanley, have been promoted to privates first class. Both are in the 528th Quartermaster Remount troop and are stationed at Camp Hale, Colorado. Their work consists of training horses, pack mules, ski troopers and just "swell" soldiers.

The camp is situated 10,000 feet above sea level, and is the highest camp in the United States. All its fascinating beauty was made by the hand of God—the mountains. Camp Hale is noted for its training and the making of the finest, toughest, soldiers in the world.

The officers at Camp Hale are very much confused when it comes to telling these two boys apart because they're twins up to every button on their shirt. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stanley of Effingham, formerly of near Bogota.
