

SEVENTH-EIGHTH GRADE PARTY

1943

The seventh and eighth grades of the Newton Public school had their annual party, Wednesday evening, May 19. The lunch room was beautifully decorated in red, white and blue, using the crepe paper, flowers, candles and flag favors.

The party commenced at 7:00 o'clock. Lunch was served, consisting of sandwiches, potato chips, pickles, deviled eggs, Pepsi Cola and angel food cake with whipped cream.

The first part of the program was held at the table. The master of ceremonies was Harvey Dana. First came the welcome address from Maude Reynolds. Response from president of eighth grade class, Betty Allison. Toasts were given to the eighth grade by Wilma Jean Yost, the seventh grade by Wanda Brown, the school by Vera Mae Jenkins, Principal C. E. Girhard by George Walker and the teachers by Donald Resch.

One minute speeches were made by the teachers, Band instructor, and short speeches from each eighth grader. A poem to the eighth grade was read by Joyce Chapman and one to the seventh grade by Richard Ward. The class "will" was read by Betty Honn and the class prophecy by George Walker and Harvey Dana.

The remainder of the program was held in the assembly room, where they were entertained with a moving picture, "The Hoosier Schoolmaster." It proved very interesting.
