

PFC. LLOYD JOURDAN KEEPS THINGS COOL IN PACIFIC AREA

Aug. 24, 1944

NEWTON BOY ATTACHED TO THE QUARtermaster REFRIGERA- TION UNIT IN HOT AREA

AT an advanced base in the South Pacific: PFC Lloyd E. Jourdan, son of Mrs. Lola Jourdan and husband of Mrs Blanche Jourdan of 521 N. Church St Newton is on duty here with a QM Co (Refrig). This organization operates and maintains refrigeration facilities for the armed forces in this area, and PFC Jourdan is engaged in technical refrigeration work.

He is the father of Maralyn Kay Jourdan, of whom he is very proud.

Entering the Army in October, 1942, he received his training at Fort McClellan, Ala. He attended refrigeration school for the army at Bloomington Ill. and came overseas with this unit in December, 1943.

PFC Jourdan has two brothers in the services, Cpl. Leonard Jourdan AAF, stationed in Australia, and Fireman 2nd class John Calvin Jourdan, somewhere in the South Pacific.

He attended school in Newton, and graduated from Newton Community High School.
