Staff Sergeant Wayne Foltz, son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Foltz of Northwest Wade township, is in a hospital in Italy suffering from wounds received in the battle of Italy. His injuries aren't serious, it is believed.

He has been in Italy since last fall and for a long time was on the Anzio beachhead, where he may have been wounded.

He writes that he is now in a hospital and is sleeping between sheets for the first time in nine months. "I am getting along nicely and my wounds aren't serious. They treat you fine here and there are lots of pretty nurses," he said.
