Mr. and Mrs. Grover Weck have received a letter from their son, Staff Sergeant Clarence E. Weck, and a Combat Infantryman's badge received by him for the fighting his company did in Normandy. Each man in the company received it; that is the ones who did the fighting. He said they really deserved it and every boy was proud of his medal.

The Combat Infantryman's badge can only be given to the Infantry after actual combat.

Clarence has been promoted from squad leader to platoon guide in platoon headquarters.

He is a constant reader of the Newton Press.
