

WAC Bookkeeper

ABERDEEN PROVING GROUND, MD. — Jan 6, — Sgt. Ruth C. Foltz of Wheeler, Ill., found an Army job similar to her civilian occupation of bookkeeper—and romance in the Women's Army Corps.

She is in the Stock Control Section at Field Service in the Ordnance Research & Development Center at the world's largest Ordnance installation. Before her enlistment at Chicago, Jan. 26, 1943, she was employed by a bakery at Mattoon, Ill.

Only a short time ago she returned from her wedding trip following her marriage at Newton, Ill., on Sept. 11 to M/Sgt. G. L. Cooley of the Proving Ground Detachment at this post. They met here and their acquaintance soon blossomed into romance culminating with their marriage.

Sgt. Foltz is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Foltz of Wheeler. Sgt. Cooley is from Sullivan, Ind.

She took her basic at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., and went to Army Administration School at Richmond, Ky. before arriving here April 30, 1943.

Sgt. Foltz has been awarded the WAAC and Good Conduct Medals.
